Learning from each other's educational quality management systems in Apeldoorn (NL)

Since October 2018 six organisations in VET (Vocational Education and Training) from several European countries are working together in a new project called 'Integration of Learning Outcomes into Quality Management and Harmonization of Quality Standards in Vocational Education and Training in Europe' (QMS4VET) sponsored by Erasmus+ KA2. The VET organisations come from Finland, Austria, Portugal, Germany, Scotland and the Netherlands. The main objectives of this partnership are to learn from each other, to focus on the strengths of each partner/country practice and to support the implementation of best practice to further integrate the learning outcomes approach as part of the quality assurance systems.

Between 21 and 25 January all QMS4VET partners visited Aventus in Apeldoorn (NL) for their first project week. Both Aventus (NL) and BBS Syke EUROPASCHULE (GE) presented aspects of their quality management system. Aventus focused on their 'competence based examination' and BBS Syke EUROPASCHULE presented the guidance around their level 1 education in order to reduce school drop-outs.

Along with the presentations of their systems, an actual Aventus ICT management examination was observed followed by a SWOT analysis and development of a step-by-step implementation recommendation for both organisations. Finally all information and conclusions were described in two Project week reports which will soon be available and via www.ventus.nl/ventus-english and/or www.facebook.com/groups/574615936313047/?ref=bookmarks.
